Subject: Thank You from all us Lobsters

Dear Len and Team,

I wanted to say the biggest biggest thank you to you and your team for hosting a truly flawless event for us on Friday.

You and your whole team went above and beyond for us and your hospitality was gracious and professional from the very beginning. Nothing was too much trouble for you and you had thought of all the detail that needed to be attended to before we had, so thank you for that.

Our directors have said that it was our best year-end function yet so please pass on a huge thank you from all of us.

Have a wonderful festive season and all the best for the New Year Len.

Kind regards,

Kate Payne

It has been suggested that the travelling costs should be shared by team members.
It is up to individual teams to decide whether or not to use the calculations below

GLEN COUNTRY CLUB BOWLS SECTION

TRAVELLING COSTS

The following calculation can be used to determine the cost of travelling to the various venues for Bowls Competitions

1. The driver of the vehicle does not contribute towards the petrol costs as they incur wear and tear on their vehicle.
2. Assume that the average vehicle does 10km to a litre of petrol.
3. Take the distance to and from the venue and divide it by 10. Next, multiply the answer by the price of petrol per litre.
4. Take this total cost and divide it by 3 (if there are 4 in the team) to calculate what each passenger should pay.

eg: If you are playing in Constantia the calculation will be as follows:

$$24 \times 2 / 10 = 4.8 \times R13.79 = R66.19 / 3 = R22$$

The same calculation is to be used and divided by the number of passengers in the vehicle.

It is advisable to check the kilometres traveled on the odometer as the kilometres below may not be exact.
All calculations are from Glen Country Club to destinations listed, distances taken from Google

Yes, we do speak South African - it's a language on its own!

Lekker by die See!

My chommies and I scored a jol at the larney's beach possie for mahala. We were so amped cause we smaak that place, and people pay big bucks to stay there. It's yonks since we went away. My sis packed us some lekker samies nogal for padkos but, ag no man, my boet is such a moegoe. He was so busy saying cheers to the toppies and the laaitie that he forgot to pack the cooler box in the combi. It made me mal because we had to kak-an-betaal for chow. In the arvie we put on our cozies and slip slops one time and went to check out the surf. The guys went for a goof and the chicks decided to catch a tan. My boet was picking-up-stompies and he got dikbek when he heard us tjooning about how dof he was. He was sommer in a dwaal and saw his gat on the rocks. We got a skrik cause he hit his pip quite bad. Shame, it was eina but afterwards he was hundreds. Eish, some digs mates then rocked up and we had a dop and some chips and gooied some wors and chops on the braai. Jislaikit! I had a babalas and felt swak in the morning hey. The other okes were still dossing so I went on my ace for a jog. It was such a schlep to pack up and waii but I was so stoked cause we had such a lank jol.

3 drunk guys entered a taxi. The taxi driver knew that they were drunk so he started the engine & turned it off again. Then said, "We have reached your destination". The 1st guy gave him money & the 2nd guy said "Thank you". The 3rd guy slapped the driver. The driver was shocked thinking the 3rd drunk knew what he did. But then he asked "What was that for?". The 3rd guy replied, "Control your speed next time, you nearly killed us!"

"I MISS BILL" (contributed by Dick Russell)

It doesn't matter what party you belong to this is good natured political humor from a Canadian TV show, where a black comedian said he misses Bill Clinton....

"Yep, that's right - I miss Bill Clinton!"

He was the closest thing we ever got to having a real black man as President.

He plays the saxophone.

He smoked weed.

He had his way with ugly white women.

Even now? Look at him his wife works, and he doesn't!

And, he gets a check from the government every month.

Manufacturers announced today that they will be stocking America's shelves this week with "Clinton Soup," in honor of one of the nations' distinguished men. It consists primarily of a weenie in hot water.

Chrysler Corporation is adding a new car to its line to honor Bill Clinton The Dodge Drafter will be built in Canada.

When asked what he thought about foreign affairs, Clinton replied, "I don't know, I never had one."

The Clinton revised judicial oath:

"I solemnly swear to tell the truth as I know it, the whole truth as I believe it to be, and nothing but what I think you need to know."

Clinton will be recorded in history as the only President to have sex in the Oval Office between the Bushes.

It's just been announced by Dell that a new computer will be introduced to the market in the near future. It's the Bill Clinton model featuring a 6 inch hard-drive and no memory.

Upcoming Events

Congratulations to all who are celebrating a Birthday during this month.

We wish all of you very good health and enjoy your special day

John Hill 1st, Gerd Stern 1st, Mike Levine 10th, Dorothy Drewer 13th, Masha Cohen 15th, Rodney Chiat 17th, Sydney Epstein 17th,
Bernice Beinart 20th, Barbara Gordon 27th, Victor Boyd 28th, Berenice Levitt 28th

It has been suggested that all those who are celebrating their birthday this month and would like to bring cake/s to the Thursday evening braai should contact each other to arrange which date they will bring cakes, so as to prevent too much one week and nothing the next

In more news that's both concerning and unsurprising, several climate reports released today have concluded that 2018 was among the hottest years on record. In independent analyses, NASA, the National Oceanic and Atmospheric Administration (NOAA) and the World Meteorological Organization (WMO) have all found that the past year continued a long-term upward trend.

In all three reports, 2018 was found to be the fourth warmest year on record, with 2016 still topping the list thanks to a strong El Niño effect, followed closely by 2017 and then 2015. Collectively the past five years are the hottest in the modern record, which began in 1880, while the 20 hottest have all been within the last 22 years.

Those figures are calculated by analyzing data gathered by 6,300 weather stations around the world, along with temperature readings from research stations in Antarctica and surface temperatures collected by ships and buoys. The raw data is then analyzed in different ways by the different organizations.

NASA says the average global temperature has risen by about 1° C (2° F) since records began in 1880. In 2018, that average was 0.83° C (1.5° F) warmer than the 1951 to 1980 mean. That 30-year period, according to NASA's data, was when temperature averages generally held flat, fluctuating fairly consistently around a central point. Since then, there's been a clear and sharp upward trend – in fact, NOAA says that every year since 1977 has had an above-average temperature

OAA processes the data differently, taking an average of each year in the 20th century. According to those calculations, the average global temperature in 2018 was 0.79° C (1.42° F) warmer than the 20th century average he WMO report, meanwhile, uses a different period again – a long-term average of the 30 years between 1981 and 2010. The global average temperature in 2018 was about 0.38° C (0.68° F) above that baseline, which is estimated to be 14.3° C (57.7° F)

While it may seem odd and potentially contradictory that different reports are returning different figures, it's important to understand that in the big picture, they're all largely in agreement. As the graph above shows, while there may be slight variations in any given year, the overall peaks and valleys line up closely, as does the clear upwards trend in the last few decades

Around the Bowls World

ACCOLADES TO BARRYDALE BOWLING CLUB

Cliff Franklin

Since the relaunch of the Barrydale Bowling Club in October 2016 the Club has been evolving and the new era of the Barrydale Recreational Club has taken on a multi-faceted approach in attracting membership within the Barrydale Community. As Barrydale per se is not a natural attraction for instance, people retiring or perhaps families relocating, an approach and concept whereby all aspects of Sport, Recreation, Art, Culture and Tourism were adopted, the Barrydale Recreational Club has become the umbrella body within Barrydale. By merging all aspects of Recreational Life within the village the potential target market has been broadened, with the Recreational Club emerging as the head office of all said facilities. The Bowling Section, by nature benefits from cross pollination of all activities.

The historical dateline indicates that the Bowling Club itself, has made tremendous strides by initiating ideas through the forum of Bowls which then dovetails with the other sections of the Club and vice versa.

The Bowling Business League became the platform for the Jukskei League, Tennis League and soon to be launched Athletics/Running Division. To show diversity we had a SA Development Martial Arts Team Member recently joining the Club. The 2017/18 Business League winners are now all fully fledged Bowling Club Members and Gert Mills is now the Club's Vice-Chairman. A local farmer with tremendous foresight and initiative provides a wise and cost effective manner as regards all Greenkeeping aspects of the Club.

The 2018/19 League winners, Boeties Garden Maintenance Team are members of the previously disadvantaged Community who now all play a role within the Club, with Adrian, Boeties' son, currently being groomed as the Club's Greenkeeper.

The launch of the Barrydale Bowls Youth Initiative within a local Community School, BF Oosthuizen, has proved to be a tremendous platform to launch the game of Bowls in Barrydale. Identifying Community leaders such as Sports Co-ordinator, Renaldo Claassen to drive the initiative within the Community has been a huge success. Likewise pupils Giovanni Hartnick and Petro Marthinus through the Overberg and Boland structures are making tremendous strides, and Matthew Janniker at the Envar Buys Tournament performed admirably. With Giovanni, as a member of a group of ten beginning the Senior School phase, the structures are in place for Bowls at the youth level to grow into a major sport within the Barrydale Community.

The interaction through the various forms of Social Media is fascinating and leaders are being molded to bring a lot of credibility through the auspices of the Club. Education classes through the Club are being put into place so as to maximize the potential being unearthed and nurtured in the Village. The late Ronnie Cloete played an inspirational role in the growth of this aspect of the Club.

Recognition by Overberg and wards conferred by Western Cape Sports have lent a lot of credibility to the re-emergence of Bowls in Barrydale/

The 2019 Boland Pro 10 competition highlighted the cross synergies of the Club. The Bam/Barrydale Art Meander which showcases the opening of the Christmas Season, this year highlighted the plight of the Barrydale Redfin Minnow, a local fish on the verge of extinction, which in future will be linked to all Pro 10 competitions, thereby connecting the game of Bowls to an important conservation issue together and linking it with the opening of the season.

My participation in the 2019 Novice finals as a Section winner in Worcester is significant in that it sets the benchmark for future Bowlers going forward from within the Barrydale Community. The fact that Barrydale has grown from a club which in May 2017 had 7 members, then grew to 18 members in May 2018 and currently sporting 34 members, is way past pleasing and an example to all other clubs
